The Three Billy Goats Gruff – A Folktale

Retold By: Sue Peterson

Did you ever hear the story about the "The Three Billy Goats Gruff"? It is a folktale, which means it is a story that is retold over and over to other people. I will tell you the story of "The Three Billy Goats Gruff".

Once upon a time, there were three billy goats named "Gruff" who lived on a green hill by a stream. They saw the grass was very green on the other side of the stream. So the first little billy goat went across the bridge.

"Trip, trap, trip, trap!" went the goat's hooves as he walked across the bridge.

"Who's tripping across my bridge?" shouted the troll who lived under the bridge. "I will eat you up."

"I'm going to the other side, but I'm the smallest billy goat. If you wait a bit, my brother will come. He's bigger than I am."

And so the troll let the smallest billy goat go across the bridge to the green grass on the other side. Then the troll waited.

The second billy goat came to cross the bridge.

"Trip, trap, trip, trap!" went the goat's hooves as he walked across the bridge.

The troll said, "Who is that tripping on my bridge? I will eat you up."

But the second billy goat said there was another billy goat who would soon come cross the bridge to eat the grass on the other side and that goat was much bigger. And so the troll let the second billy goat go. The troll waited again.

The third billy goat came across the bridge.

"Trip, trap, trip, trap!" went the goat's hooves as he walked across the bridge.

"Who's tripping across my bridge? I'll eat you up."

As the troll came to eat him, the biggest billy goat rammed the troll with his horns and pushed the troll off the bridge. After that, the third goat ran across the bridge so he could eat the green grass with his brothers.

And that's the story of the "The Three Billy Goats Gruff".
